CHAPTER II
THE METHOD OF THE ANALYSIS

2.1 The Source of Data

The sources of data for this thesis are from the novel L.A. Mayer and some critical books which have close relation with the novel which will be discussed later. In analyzing this novel, I have picked out many books to be looked and found into other references and as guidance. The data is not fully copied, although there are some quotations.

2.2. Data Collecting Procedure

In collecting the data, I need some instruments for this thesis. The technique is used by gathering all the data from the library or from internet and other supporting material relevant to the topic of the thesis as many as possible, and then I begin to read the data carefully, to take down notes and compose it properly. The whole data, the quotation will be put in my thesis later on and find out the relations with the study. The right data is divided into parts to suit the parts of the study. All of the data are read carefully line-by-line to find out the relation with the study.

2.3 The Analysis of Data

By writing this thesis, I have to combine the important data from many other sources which have been collected and analyzed them well. The kind of this research is Library research. I collect the data from various books and internet. First, I read the novel then identify the data from the dialogues or statements of the novel which support the main problem and I will analyze it and make conclusion in the end of the analysis.
