CHAPTER II
METHOD OF ANALYSIS

2.1 Research Method

In composing this thesis and analyzing subject found in this novel, the writer uses a library research. A library research is used to collect data from some books to support the analysis. Elizabeth Gilbert’s novel entitled Eat Pray Love as the main source and some other books that contained data that would help the writer in finishing this thesis. Exploring the internet is also done to find any data that support the analysis.

Since in this analysis the subject matter and the element are described, then the method is known as descriptive method. The method is applied by describing the data and analyzing them, related to the focus of analysis. The elements of the subject are described from the general statements into specifics ones and from specific to general statements. Those statements are supported by other related sources so it cannot be doubted.
2.2 Data Collecting

Referring to the library research as the method of analysis in collecting the data for this thesis, the writer obtained the supporting data from several books as the sources of the data, the main source of the data from Elizabeth Gilbert’s novel entitled Eat Pray Love, this novel is used to obtain the journey of Elizabeth Gilbert to find her true identity. Then some other data is drawn from other books as the references which contained definition of novel and identity that would help in finishing this thesis.

2.3 Data Analysis

Data analysis is applied when all the data from the novel and some other books is collected. The data that has been collected then will be used to finishing this thesis. The analysis will be stated by explaining the the definition of true identity in as the subject of this thesis.