2. BIOGRAPHY OF THE AUTHOR

Andrea Hirata was born in Belitong. Although his mayor study is economics, he is very interesting of science physics, chemistry, biology, astronomy, and especially literature. Edensor is the third novel after best-selling novels of rainbow troops and the dreamer. Andrea Hirata further identifies himself as an academic and backpacker. Nowadays he is chasing another dream to live in Kye Gompa, the highest village in the world, at Himalayas. Andrea Hirata studied economy in university of Indonesian. He got a scholarship to study European Union at the university's Master of Science university de Paris, Sorbonne, France and Sheffield Hallam University, United Kingdom. Andrea’s thesis in the field of telecommunications economics got award from both the university and he graduated cum laude. Thesis has adapted into Indonesian and an economic theory books written by the first telecommunication Indonesian people. The book has published as a scientific reference. At the moment Andrea lives in Bandung and is still working at the headquarters of Indonesian Telecomunnication company.