ABSTRACT

Impact On The Socio Ekonomik Partnership Program Continue Farming

This thesis entitled “Impact On The Socio Ekonomik Partnership Program Continue Farming” consists of 6 chapter and 113 pages. Issue discussed here is how the Impact On The Socio Ekonomik Partnership Program Continue Farming the purpose of this study was Impact On The Socio Ekonomik Partnership Program Continue farming

This type of research is explanatory research, which aims to look at the relationship between the variables and the research aimed to test the hypothesis that has been formulated previously. Meanwhile, data collection techniques using Product Moment Correlation technique. Total population in this study was 434 prisoners. The number of samples in this study were 43 prisoners. The sampling technique used in this study were simple random sample.

From the results of the correlation analysis carried out by the analysis of known product moment correlation coefficient (r_xy) = 0.39 with a significance level of 5% (95% confidence tarap) is 0.301, was greater than the price of that table t (0.39 > 0.301), thus it can be concluded that there is a hypothesis (Ha) that says "no impact on the socio-economic continue farming" acceptable. While the null hypothesis (Ho) that says "there is no impact on the socio-economic partnership program established continue farming Field" can not be accepted (rejected). While contributing to the socio-economic continue farming program Indonesia amounted to 9%.

Keywords: Socio Economic, Continue Farming Program